ORAL HEALTH PARTNERSHIP HIRES TWO DENTISTS AND CLINICAL DIRECTOR

Oral Health Partnership (OHP), a local nonprofit providing no-cost dental services to kids in need in Brown County, has recently added staff to include a new Clinical Director and two dentists.

Wendy Beyer joined OHP as Clinical Director in January, 2019. She has a Masters of Science in Human and Community Resources as well as a background in dental hygiene. She is the former Public Health Preparedness Planner for Outagamie County Health and Human Services. Other positions she has held include Wisconsin Nutrition Education Program Coordinator for UW-Extension in Calumet, Outagamie and Winnebago Counties, Health Coordinator of Community Initiatives for Waupaca County and Program Coordinator for Waupaca County Seal-A-Smile. She brings to OHP impressive program management and leadership skills.

Oksana Somchenko, D.M.D. joined OHP in August, 2018 as a full-time dentist. She comes to OHP with nearly 10 years of dental education and experience in Green Bay, Minnesota, Illinois and Arizona. Her years of volunteer activities demonstrate her passion for public health, including a mission trips to the Ukraine and Haiti.

Julie Feit, DDS joined OHP in October, 2018 as a full-time dentist with a background in treating children and young adults. Her education took place in both Wisconsin and Minnesota, and she has abundant dental experience in both places as well. Prior to becoming a dentist, she worked as a psychiatric care worker and a pharmacy technician. Her participation in a dental outreach program for migrant workers shows her passion and concern for underserved populations.
